

Information and analytical system of the Bureau «Taldau»

In order to meet users' needs for statistical information, the Bureau published data in the IAS «Taldau».

The system is implemented in order to provide users with all relevant statistical information on statistical indicators in a convenient interactive mode.

Opportunities and advantages of IAS «Taldau»:

- presentation of data in various tabular, graphic and cartographic forms and cuts;
- data visualization under given conditions;
- providing tools for data analysis;
- uploading selected data or analysis results in accessible generally accepted formats (Excel, PDF, PNG, JPEG, SVG, etc.);
- search by keyword and name of classification item;
- API service for the transmission of official statistical information.

IAS «Taldau» includes the following modules:

«Personal account» – each user has an opportunity to create the «Personal account», where he will be able to create his own tables, graphs, diagrams, and keep it on his own personal page.

«Indicators search» – includes a quick search of indicator by keyword and prompt search by element's name of classification.

«Analytics» – allows users to conduct their own comparative analysis by necessary indicators, and also to use the types of analysis inherent in the system.

«Sections of Statistics» – contains information by the selected field of statistics.

«Constructor» – allows user to build their own chart of statistical indicators loaded in IAS.

«Regions» – include a full statistical information on each of the 20 regions of Kazakhstan on main statistical indicators.

The IAS «Taldau» has more than 3000 statistical indicators, which are updated on a regular basis, since 2000 annually, since 2011 monthly and quarterly, which are displayed in dynamics for a number of years.
